

Patient 101:
Lesson 7

Knowledge today.
A calmer tomorrow.

How to Read Your Results Without Panicking

The 9pm Portal Result Guide

Empowering Health Together

A result is INFORMATION, NOT A SENTENCE!

That 9pm notification drop doesn't have to be solved at 9pm. Wait until the office opens in the morning to message your team.

3 Rules to Stop the Portal Spiral

Breathe.
Get the facts.
You've got this!

1 Flagged Doesn't Mean Emergency

A high or low result just means it's outside the average range.

It's the start of a conversation, not a verdict.

Remember:

- Many things can cause
a result to be high or low.
- Your provider looks at the whole picture.
- Most abnormal results
are not emergencies.

2 Look at the Trend, Not One Number

The line beats the single dot!

Check if it's creeping up, holding steady, or coming down over time.

Trends tell the real story!

3 Don't Guess — Ask One Clear Question

Stop Googling at midnight.
Send one clear message
when the clinic opens.

Your healthcare team is here to help —
use them!

Quick Reminders

- ✓ Results are just one piece of your story.
- ✓ Your provider looks at the big picture (your history, medications, symptoms, and trends).
- ✓ Most results can wait until the next business day.
- ✓ If you feel very sick or have severe symptoms,
call your clinic or seek urgent care.
- ✓ Write down your questions so you don't forget.
- ✓ You are an informed and empowered patient.
— and that makes a difference!

It's okay to feel worried.
You're human.
Choose facts over fear.

Copy + Paste This Message
(Then fill in your information)

I saw my [Result Name] result on [Date] and I'm not sure what it means or what I should do next.
Can someone help me understand it?

Send

One clear question beats a night of panic every time.

wellcharted.health

PATIENTS • FAMILIES • STRONGER TOMORROWS